NSE PH FETES EXCO

It was a moment of backslapping, stocktaking and sober reflection for the Executive Committee Members of the Nigerian Society of Engineers Port Harcourt Branch on Thursday, December 20, 2007 at a dinner held at the branch mini secretariat to fete EXCO members. Amidst a sumptuous dinner put together by the branch through the branch Secretary, Engr. Dr. A. H. Igoni MNSE, MNIAE; goodwill messages and encomiums were ceaselessly pouring in for the Chairman Engr. Benibo FNSE and his team. Many reminded the incoming EXCO members to remain undaunted by the third position which the NSE National placed the branch in spite of obvious outstanding performance. In his remark at the toast, Engr. Prof. H. I Hart FNSE, stated that in spite of the circumstances, Port Harcourt Branch still remains the branch to beat. Engr. Chief. G. Massari FNSE, also corroborated this view when he said even though beaten physically, Port Harcourt branch remain morally the best branch. He said he is proud to be a member of the branch and expressed deep appreciation for the team spirit which had prevailed. The Branch Chairman, Engr. B. J. Benibo FNSE amidst valedictory remark noted with pleasure that the previous years have been wonderful and fruitful. Amongst numerous achievement of the administration in the previous years he noted was the acquisition of 30 plots of land for ERC and successful Foundation Stone Laying of the ever first Engineering Resource Centre in Nigeria. He thanked all those who worked with him tirelessly and those he may have had misunderstanding with, he asked for pardon and forgiveness. The incoming Chairman, Engr. Bateim M. H. Ogariawo MNSE, who discovered the site for the situation of the Mini Secretariat, expressed gratitude to God and to all for their support especially during the election, and promised to do his best to lift up the branch beyond its present level. The Chairman-elect, who spoke amidst jokes and fun, solicited for the support of all engineers to move the branch forward. Highlight of the ceremony was the presentation of the eminent lecturer of the year award to Engr. Chief O. O. Oriye FNSE, Aye-Soguyie 1 of Tombia. Others include the presentation of cash gifts to staff of the secretariat for credible and commendable performance over the years. Engr. Solomon .T. Orumu MNSE, also in his personal capacity commended the staff with cash gift of N1000 per staff to all the staff.

NSEPH—INVESTITURES ORGARIAWO AS 21ST BRANCH CHAIRMAN

The Nigerian Society of Engineers, Port Harcourt Branch would on Tuesday January 15th 2008 investiture Engr. Bateim Max. Harrison Ogariawo as its 21st Branch Chairman. The Investiture ceremony which is stated to hold at the Delta Hotels Port Harcourt at 4 pm would also feature the inauguration of the new executives committee. A statement from the Branch Chairman, Engr. B. J. Benibo FNSE, invites all engineers and the general public to the investiture ceremony.

OUTING AT ABUJA 2007

The spouses of engineers from the Nigerian Society of Engineers Port Harcourt Branch were at their best at the Abuja 2007. The spouses led by Mrs. Tonye Vivian Benibo, wife of the branch chairman, Engr. B. J. Benibo FNSE, adorned each day in a charades of colours, which stood them out uniquely among spouses at the conference. With each day carefully marched with choice colours, the Port Harcourt spouses marched out in grand style to paint Abuja red. According to Mrs. Benibo as the marches developed more spouses from other branches participate. She urged all engineers' spouses in the branch to turn out in their large numbers to join the association for a greater
