Interview with Engr. Yakubu Olawale Bankole, MNSE

Engr. Yakubu Olawale Bankole, MNSE, is the Vice Chairman of the National Engineering Games of the Nigerian Society of Engineers.

E-Newsletter: Sir, what can you tell us about the engineering games?

Bankole: The engineering games is to bring engineers together after rigorous work. We try as much as possible to ease the tension in engineers. In trying to do that we have series of games lined up for this year. We have football, table tennis, a lot of indoor games and we have a marathon that will involve virtually everyone in engineering. The golf would be played during the conference but the other ones would be played within the Abuja circle at the national stadium. Member are employed to register and forward their names for the games so that we can have a successful outing.

E-Newsletter: Could you tell us about climate change?

Bankole: On climate change, we have greenhouse gases but some of us do not know the activities that brings about climate change. Climate change is about introducing the solar radiation into the atmosphere by depleting the ozone layer and aside that some gases like carbon dioxide, water vapor, methane gas, nitrous oxide form the bulk of these climate change. We need to mop up all of these gases. One that is easily mopped up is carbon dioxide. One things that is associated with climate change is called global warming. By planting grass and trees which gives out oxygen is one of the best solutions to fight against climate change. So let us go green and save lives.

E-Newsletter: Thank you sir.
